The musical score for 'The Rose Tree' is presented in three systems. The first system shows the beginning of the piece with a treble clef and a key signature of one flat. The second system continues the melody in the treble clef, featuring a series of eighth notes. The third system shows the melody continuing in the treble clef, with a final measure ending on a whole note. The bass clef part remains mostly silent, with a few notes in the final system.

The musical score for 'The Rose Tree' is presented in three systems, each with a vocal line and a piano accompaniment. The first system includes a key signature change to one flat (B-flat major) and a common time signature. The second system contains the first ending, marked '1. 2.', which leads back to the beginning. The third system contains the second ending, marked '3.', which concludes the piece. The piano accompaniment features a rhythmic melody in the right hand and a supporting bass line in the left hand.

The musical score for 'The Rose Tree' is presented in three systems. The first system consists of a single staff with a treble clef and a key signature of one flat (B-flat), containing a whole rest. The second system consists of two staves, treble and bass, with a brace on the left. The treble staff contains a melody of eighth and sixteenth notes, while the bass staff contains a bass line of eighth and sixteenth notes. The third system also consists of two staves, treble and bass, with a brace on the left. The treble staff contains a melody of eighth and sixteenth notes, while the bass staff contains a bass line of eighth and sixteenth notes. The score is written in a simple, clear style with black ink on a white background.
