- Now we are going to flatten out the piece with our iron and some water in a spray bottle. Spray backside of piece with water and iron, using firm pressure. Keep your iron moving at all times. Continue spraying and pressing until piece has flattened out and the corner "dips" are less noticeable.
- Hand stitch narrow ric rac to outside seam line of piece with 1 strand of matching thread. Pinch points of ric rac together, towards center. This will make the trim more visible.

- Begin with a piece of 28 count Mushroom Lugana fabric that measures 8" x 9". Fold linen in half lengthwise & widthwise, finger-creasing the folds. The center of the linen is marked where the folds intersect. Matching the center of the chart to the center of fabric, begin your cross stitch. You will be using 1 strand of floss, working over 1 linen thread for all areas, except the grass line. The grass is worked in long straight stitches, over three threads, using 2 strands of floss.
- After cross stitch is complete, lay piece on clean terrycloth towel, wrong side facing up. Gently mist with water and iron.
- Measure out 1/2" beyond outer most stitch on all four sides of cross stitched design and pull a thread at these locations. Use of chart is helpful in locating outer most stitches. Cut piece down, using the missing thread as your cutting lines. When cut down the piece should measure 4 15/16" x 4 3/4".
- Cut two pieces of 28 count Mushroom Lugana fabric that measure 4 15/16" x 2 5/8" for backing. Pin two pieces together along one 4 15/16" side. Machine sew a 1/4" seam, leaving a scant 2" opening at the center of the seam. Press seam open.
- Pin backing to front, wrong sides together.
- Machine sew around entire piece using a 1/4" seam allowance.
- Trim seams down to about 1/8" away from stitching. Turn piece right sides out.
- Stuff piece firmly with polyester fiberfill. Hand stitch the opening on the backside shut.
